Achieving the Right Mindset to Achieve Success!

Here's a quick exercise that you can do while you sit right there reading this that will not hurt a bit...

Answer the following questions as quickly as they come to you and realize that no answer is wrong...

- 1) When you were younger what did you dream your life would be like as you got older? Did you plan to be rich or poor, have a nice car or a junky one, live in a large house, a small house, or shack?
- 2) Have you achieved that life? ...
- 3) If not, why not? What's kept you from that?
- 4) Are you looking for a chance to live that life now? Is that why you're looking for a home based business opportunity?

Okay now I want to you to stop right now with those thoughts...raise your shoulders back up...raise your head up high and imagine what you would feel like had you achieved all that you had hoped for...

How would you feel?

What would you look like?

What thoughts would go through your mind?

Imagine what that car looks like now, or what your huge home looks like...

The sky is the limit here my friend...

Okay, so what the heck was the point of all that? First off, did you actually do it? If not go back and do so because I won't tell you why you had to do it unless you actually do it.

Okay back...good.

The reason you did that was not to make you feel bad about not having achieved your dream life...

It was to get you realize that your dreams are still alive...perhaps in the back of your mind, behind work, bills, and raising children but they're still there.

The second part was so that you can see that those feelings that come with the dream life that you hoped for are still achievable.

Those feelings are right there at the surface, but more importantly is the fact that the more that you make yourself feel those feelings every single day, the more your brain is going to have a target to go after to create the life that you've dreamed of.

Now, this isn't just crazy Law of Attraction stuff (not that that's crazy) but a way to get your mind moving in the right direction and knowing (for sure) that just because success hasn't happened yet, that it's still not too late at all. In fact, the more you do the second exercise the more your mind will begin to feel like it's actually true and the better you'll feel more of the time. It's not a good feeling to feel broke, or like you haven't achieved your dreams, so why not make yourself feel the opposite – like your dreams are fulfilled.

Okay, now going back to the questions...the second question is vitally important. The question of WHY you haven't succeeded yet.

But let's rephrase that and ask yourself instead "HOW CAN"; as in "how can I achieve my dream lifestyle". This will get your mind moving in the right direction to solve that problem. Luckily I'm going to help you solve that right now...

One of the reasons why you probably haven't gotten the dream life that you have hoped for is because you haven't had the right vehicle or business opportunity to do so.

By that I mean you haven't found a business opportunity that you can latch onto, dedicate yourself to working hard at, and receive top of the line training to succeed.

Right now, there's a home based business opportunity that may be your one great bastion of hope. On top of that, two of the greatest minds in the home business field are willing to take you by the hand and train you until you reach success.

Remember this quote; "If your ship doesn't come in, swim out to meet it."

Be the best you can be....every day!
